AND INVADERS ARE TRAPPED IN ENEMY'S COUNTRY

TRUCE FLAGS TORN DOWN

Anarchy Reigns in City and Hundreds are Said to be Starving; Rachin Khan is Desperate

(Copyright, 1908, United Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, July 3.—Massacres are on at Tabriz, Persia, and the city is being sacked by the bloodthirsty, merciless Cossack horde, according to authentic dispatches received tonight.

Prior to the starting of the massacre 370 persons had been killed, and upwards of 700 wounded in the outskirts of the city since Sunday.
The dispatch received tonight is not timed but indicates the massacres started last night. Authentic figures of the number slain are not given, but private estimates place the loss at 2,000.

Anarchy reigns in the city. There is a shortage of bread and hundreds of rebel defenders of the city are said to be starving.

Temporary Truce.
A report received stated the city surrendered to Rachin Khan, the shah's commander. It indicated that trouble was over, but later advices show it was premature. Tonight's dispatch says an armistice was arranged which virtually amounted to a truce. The Tabriz rebels ceased firing and permitted the shah's forces to enter the city on the promise of personal safety.

Outrage Starts.
While flags were run up throughout the city, the shah's troops entered last night and a party of Cossacks became riotous in the Hlaban quarter, which is the hotbed of the revolutionists. A drinking bout was followed by the wrecking of a bazaar. This was the spark needed to set off the explosion. In a moment a squadron of drunken horsemen was dashing through the streets followed by a mob bent on pillage. The news spread to all quarters and the white flags were torn down; barricades went up in an instant and the rebels with a surprising show of organization sprang to the defenses.
The Cossacks were caught more or less off their guard and suffered a severe loss owing to being trapped within the enemy's lines.

At the last report the street fighting was general.
Rachin Khan is making desperate efforts to marshal his badly scattered troops.

MRS. MARY FESSLER DIES THIS MORNING

Mrs. Mary V. Fessler, wife of A. A.
Fessler, of the firm of Fessler & Dahl, died this morning at 8:30 at the residence, 109 South Third street, after an illness of two months. She leaves a husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Mathias Flock of Norwalk, Wis., seven brothers and three sisters. Deceased was born Jan. 8, 1873 and was 35 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Fessler were married only two years ago.
The funeral will be held Monday at 9 a. m., at St. Joseph's cathedral.
Rev. Father Sluyter officiating, and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

BRUMBER FOR LIEUT. GOVERNOR

MADISON, Wis., July 3.—(Special.)—It has been practically agreed among state officers that as a result of the retirement of W. D. Connor, W. C. Brumber, a Milwaukee German, will be the choice for Lieutenant governor.

Alderman Meisheimer, Milwaukee, was also suggested.
It is rumored the governor had a conference with Brumber, while at the Chicago convention and it was agreed if Connor was not a candidate for re-election that Brumber would be favored.

TWO KILLED IN TANK EXPLOSION

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 3.— Two persons were killed and ten injured in an explosion on the oil tank steamer "Shenang" about noon today.

LABOR DEMANDS RADICAL PLANK

STRENGTH OF REQUEST WOR-RIES DEM. LEADERS

BRYAN WANTS STRONG PLANK

But Conservatives Call It Outrageous and Only Fight of Convention May Be Over Federation

DENVER, Colo., July 3.—In an effort to retrieve the ground lost at Chicago, representatives of organized labor today will hold the center of the stage in the preliminaries to the democratic national convention.

Among the "big chiefs" now buttonholing delegates are H. B. Per-ham, president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers; P. H. Morrissey, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; A. B. Garretson, grand chief of the O. R. C., and Jas.
O'Connell, national president of the machinists. Enroute are: Gompers, W. S. Stone, chief of the B. L.
E., and John J. Hanrahan, chief of the B. L. F.

"We must have real anti-injunction legislation," they say. "We don't want regulated injunction.
What we want is the absolute prohibition of the use of the injunction in labor disputes. The Nebraska plank is all right in its way, but it doesn't go far enough. We insist that the labor plank shall absolutely pledge the democratic party to legislation that will prevent the issuance of an injunction where there exists a remedy by ordinary process of law."

This position of the labor men has complicated the situation. Bryan followers believed a simple declaration that the injunction should not be issued excepting in times of great emergency whenever life and property was at stake, providing for jury trials and a change of venue would satisfy the American Federation and its allies. They had a rude awakening today. What will be done is problematical. They hope when Gompers sees Bryan in Lincoln tonight a compromise will be arranged. So-called conservatives are elated. They characterize the demands of the labor leaders as "outrageous" and hope an emasculated plank will be forced through.

Bryan for Radical Plank.
LINCOLN, Neb., July 3.—"Bryan has given me his assurance that when the platform is adopted in Denver, it will contain a labor plank declaring strongly against injunctions in labor disputes and demanding a representative of labor in the cabinet. It will contain a sweeping merchant marine clause and good roads plank."

This was the statement of Congressman Sulzer of New York, following a long conference with Bryan.

"I believe Bryan favors Towne as a running mate though he will not admit it," he continued. "They are almost of the same type. Towne's tremendous powers as an orator have put him close to the people.
The ticket would be invincible on the stump with Bryan and Towne running."

Gore Flays Parker
Senator Gore, the blind Oklahoman, in a slashing interview here today took heated issue with the Parker resolution on Cleveland, which has been almost the sole topic of discussion among the delegates in Lincoln today.

"We must honor the dead without dishonoring the living," he declared.
"Sacred memory must not be used as a shroud to veil sinister implications against a man we honor: I am against anything that casts a ghost of stigma or bearing the merest implication of dishonor upon Bryan and I am against anything that will tend to disrupt the integrity of the democratic party."

Respecting the vice presidential situation Senator Gore said, "Down in Oklahoma we are strongly for John Mitchell; everybody wants him to run with Bryan; if that arrangement is impossible we want a man first who can fill the position of president if such a necessity should arise, and one who will add the greatest number of votes to the ticket."

RUSSIAN BANDITS SECURE $180,000

SAMARA, RUSSIA, July 3.—Robbers held up the train between Ufa and Selatoust today and fled with $180,000 after a revolver battle in which a score of lives of passengers were imperiled. The money was taken from two cashiers of the Satinsk train from works who were cruelly beaten.

SIX DEAD IN FIRE FROM FIREWORKS

CLEVELAND 5 AND 10 CENT STORE SCENE OF HORROR

PATENT TORCH THE CAUSE

Six Bodies Are Recovered, One Woman Is Dying and Twenty Are Injured

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—Six are dead, one dying and twenty women and girls are injured as the result of a fire in S. H. C. Kresge's 5 and 10 cent store today. The building is a five story brick in the heart of the city, and employs over a hundred.

It is believed that a spark from a patent torch in the night fireworks display started the blaze. A girl was demonstrating this when suddenly a table covered with rockets and fire crackers blazed forth.
At noon Fire Chief Wallace made an inspection and announced that no bodies had been found. Half an hour later the bodies of four women and one boy were found on the ground floor at the rear of the store.

A fifth woman was found with them but she was still breathing and was sent to the hospital. They were huddled beneath a counter where they had taken a last stand. Later the body of another woman was found, making six dead.

ANOTHER "DIDN'T KNOW 'T WAS LOADED"

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 3.— Charlie Wang, an East St. Louis Chinese boy, was so eager to celebrate the Fourth of July in a dance that he shot his playmate, Claude Walker. Instead of the firecrackers his ancestors have been making for centuries, Charlie used a blank cartridge pistol for his celebrating. In the unexplained way in which such things always happen a bullet got into the weapon.

Boy Hurls Self With Pistol PANA, Ill., July 3.—Earle Blackburn, aged 7, shot himself in the hand with a revolver blank cartridge, severely injuring himself, here.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT AS TRICK RIDER

GENESEE, N. Y., July 3.—Kermit Roosevelt, son of the president, is a guest of Major W. A. Wadsworth here. Saturday he will participate in the annual equestrian contest at Major Wadsworth's, an event that brings together the best of New York state horsemen.

P. O. CLERKS ASK LONGER VACATIONS

STATE CONVENTION TO TAKE TO

LA CROSSE DELEGATES LEAVE

Meeting Will Also Attempt to Secure One Day Off Each Week for Government Employees

A large number of important issues will be taken up at the annual meeting of the State Post Office Clerks' association which convenes at Oshkosh tomorrow. State Secretary G.
M. Wenzel and Mr. John H. Miller will be the delegates from this city, and left this noon for Oshkosh to attend the convention.

Among the important issues will be the question of vacations during the year. At present the clerks are allowed eighteen days' vacation once each year and at the meeting opening tomorrow the matter of lengthening the vacation to thirty days will be taken up, and if it meets the approval of the meeting the delegates to the national convention at Birmingham, Ala., will be instructed to take the matter up.

Another important matter to be taken up will be a paper regarding giving the clerks one day a week off.
At present they are compelled to work seven days a week as in all the cities of importance there is work to be done on Sunday, and therefore they must report for duty on that day. The clerks will ask congress to pass a bill giving them one day each week and thereby cutting the week down to six days.

The question of advancing the salary of the important clerks will also be taken up and considered.
Among the important men who will be in attendance at the meeting are Congressman Davidson of Oshkosh, from the Eighth congressional district, who will address the meeting at the Elks' hall tomorrow evening, when the banquet will be held. Guy T. Gould of Washington will be present and represent the postmaster general, and Frank T.
Rogers of Madison will also attend.

REV. FRIES' FIRST HIGH MASS

Next Sunday morning Rev. Charles A. Fries, brother of City Comptroller Fries, will celebrate his first solemn high mass at St. Joseph cathedral.
After the service invited guest will attend a reception and banquet at Knights of Columbus hall and in the afternoon the children will give a reception in honor of Rev. Fries at St. Joseph hall on Sixth street.

TAMMANY GIVES UP TO BRYAN; NEW YORK SOLID FOR COMMONER

LAD CUT IN TWAIN RIDING BOX CARS

INSTANTLY AT NOON

FELL BENEATH THE WHEELS

When Train Was Stopped Body Was Badly Mangled and Death Was Immediate

While playing on the top of two box cars which were being kicked by a switch engine on the Milwaukee road under the Burlington viaduct Orlander Lee Jameson, the 12-year-old son of W. S. Jameson, weed inspector and aged confederate veteran of the north side, was thrown to the ground between the cars and instantly killed at noon today.

He, with several other young lads, including his little nephew, Albert Jameson, were playing around the tracks and at the time of the accident were riding on the top of two empties which were being kicked by a switch engine. The boy was standing on the top of the cars when a sudden jar threw young Jameson between the moving cars, crushing his skull. The body was dragged for a short distance before the train was topped and was completely cut in twain.

Dr. Suiter was called and said it was evident that the boy had been killed instantly. The boy's parents reside at 1319 Berlin street.

The body was taken to the home of Charles Berry, 1301 Charles street, where it was dressed by Undertaken Dwyer before being taken to the parental residence.

TELLS OF PLOT ON LIVES OF ROYALTY

LISBON, July 3.—Dr. Jose Maria de Alpoim, chief of the progressive dissemblers, smarting under insinuations he was implicated in the assassinations of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis, in the house of lords revealed what he declared to be the true history of the plot.
He asserted that the assassinations had been decided upon at a meeting of the leaders of the progressive and regenerator parties. A number of republicans also were present. Dr.
Alpoim charged further that the republicans proposed to obliterate the entire royal family.

Finally Manuel Silva Buissa and Alfredo Costa were given $20,000 and $10,000 respectively to kill King Carlos and Premier Franco.

SEEKS WARRANT IN RURAL FEUD

Another step in the Kobiltz feud on St. Joseph's Ridge was started today when Ernest Cornell came to La Crosse to take out a warrant for the arrest of Joe Kobiltz.
In the complaint it is stated that Kob-iltz assaulted the son of Cornell and after beating him made the statement that he would lay his father, Ernest Cornell, cold and pile the son on top of him.

Kobiltz is the man who recently dared the constable to take a horse on which judgment had been levied.

LA CROSSE 10; G. B. 2

Everything looked favorable for the Pinks at the end of the third inning today, the score standing 10 to 2 in favor of the home team. The second inning proved the undoing of the Green Bay team as the Pinks pounded out nine scores, out of a record of 4 hits and 5 errors. The batteries for La Crosse are Harms and Flynn, while those of Green Bay are Morris and McClusky.

SAVES TWO LIVES; WIFE SCOLDS HIM

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 3.—John Hesse, a teamster, after saving two lives, got as his reward a scolding from his wife because he went home with his clothes wet. Hesse and James Smith, also a teamster, saw two boys struggling in the river.
They had gone down twice when Hesse jumped into the water and saved them.

JOHN HAFERLER DEAD.

John Hafeler, aged 87 years, died at the poor farm today. He formerly was employed about the farms in St.
Joseph's Ridge, but following the death of his wife some years ago he went to the poor house. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and interment will be made in the St. Joseph's Ridge Catholic cemetery. Fessler & Dahl in charge.

VICE PRESIDENT

BIRD COLER TO CAST VOTE

SAYS DEMOCRACY WANTS THE NEBRASKAN

PREFERS GRAY OR TOWNE

But New York Democratic Leaders Will be Agreeable to Many for Second Place

DENVER, July 3.—Tammany has surrendered to Bryan.

New York state's vote will be cast by Bird Coler, personal representative of Charles Murphy, and declared for the Commoner, and the New York vote will be for any candidate for vice president the Nebraskan wants.

"When we nominated Parker four years ago," Coler said, "Nebraska invited us to name the vice presidential candidate, and we did so. We will return the compliments this year. Our preference is first, Judge Gray, and second Towne."

"New York is convinced democracy wants Bryan nominated and it will cast its vote for him on the first ballot, I am convinced."

A Theatrical Plank.
DENVER, July 3.—"Shall the democratic party go into the theatrical business?" will be one of the momentous questions to be threshed out by the platform committee next week. A plank advocating the establishment of a national theater has been prepared by the committees of theater managers in Denver, New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, St. Louis, San Francisco, Kansas City, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Louisville, Detroit, Portland, Seattle and Milwaukee. It is expected that August Thomas, of New York, who makes one of the seconding speeches in behalf of Bryan, will urge its adoption by the resolutions committee.

FEAR GATHERING OF ARMED INDIANS

EUFULA, Okla., July 3.—Residents of this section are alarmed by the threatening attitude of the Snake Indians, who are gathering by the hundreds at Hickory Ground, for a great tribal demonstration.

Nearly 800 braves, well armed, are now on the scene and with arriving delegations of Choctaws, Creeks, Seminoles and Chickasaws, the Indians are becoming wilder. Indian agents profess to have no fear of trouble and are taking no steps to disarm them.

Brooklyn	24	39

The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns broke even yesterday in a double header at Chicago, the Sox taking the first game by the score of 5 to 1 and the Browns won the second 9 to 1. Cleveland lost to Detroit by the score of 11 to 1 and closing the gap between the first division teams in the league. Philadelphia won from Boston and Washington took a double header from New York.

Stovall, first baseman for the Cleveland team, broke his arm in a collision with Willett and will be out of the game indefinitely.

In the National League the Pirates and Cubs broke even on a double header. The Cubs went into first place after the first game but returned to the second place after the last game, and are now in the second place with but three points behind the Pirates. Brooklyn defeated Boston 3 to 1, and the Cardinals won from Cincinnati 4 to 2. Koney got a three bagger at three times up. New York defeated Philadelphia by the score of 4 to 3.

Toledo shut out the champions in the only game played in the association yesterday.

Stung!
Yesterday afternoon at the League park Pinks' Colts went down to defeat before Ferguson's Lumberjacks in one of the fiercest games seen on the diamond in some time. It was not until they had battled for twelve innings that the sponge was thrown in the air in favor of the Lumberjacks, the score standing 6 to 4 in favor of the top notchers. It was a game that held the interest of the fans from the first pitched ball by Jones until Becker had swung at the last curve of Pitcher Lang. It was a pretty battle throughout the entire game. Scappy Jones and White Sox Lang opened the game and fought like real warriors until the ninth inning and then with the score a tie Manager Hawley sent Eberly to the rubber for the Colts to finish the remainder of the game, which he did in admirable style, although Wausau took the game during his reign. Lang and Jones lived up to the expectations of the fans, who predicted a hot pitchers' battle from the call of the ump, and at the end of the ninth inning the honors were practically even. The usual ups and downs in the game were disastrous to both sides and one terrible weakness was noticed in the Colt when it came to running bases. Erickson is no doubt the star catcher in the league and he had the La Crosse players "buffaloed" when they reached the bases. If they reached the first sack they could only "stick around." The coaches would talk their heads off, but the work of Erickson on the previous games put the "kibosh" on them. They would hold on tight and wait until the ball was flying off the bat before they ventured very far away. Erickson is pre-eminent behind the bat and his "pegging" has won the admiration of every fan attending the series. Catching players off the sacks is a common occurrence for him and he has got about all the teams fearing him. Not once in the past series has he made an overthrow and when he is at bat he can be depended on in case of necessity to pound out a hit.

Base running was probably the reason for the extra inning session yesterday. When La Crosse was at bat, especially in the fifth inning with three long drives, all that could be netted was to fill the bases, while on the other hand less safe swats by the Lumberjacks always netted more bases.

The game started out with everything favoring La Crosse and up to the fifth inning not a Wausau player registered at first. Jones was in prime form and of the first twelve men to face the plate four fanned the air while the remainder were scored tied La Crosse started things going in the second inning and after it closed it looked like a 2 to 0 game in favor of the locals. Graves was the first man up and was given a

O. Hammerstein Laying Cornerstone Of New Opera House

No opera house ever had its cornerstone laid by a more prominent figure in the musical and operatic world than the Philadelphia opera house. Oscar Hammerstein, the famous impresario, officiated at the Philadelphia ceremony last week. The unique feature of the ceremony was the placing in the cornerstone of a number of talking machine records by famous artists. The records include songs by Calve, Dalmore, Renaud, Zenatello and Sammarco. The records, photographs and documents were placed in an air-tight copper box and Hammerstein, using a gold trowel and hammer, tapped the stone into place and put the finishing touches to the cement around the edges.

base on balls. Becker struck out and Bues swatted the ball for two bases, scoring Graves. Bond took a walk and Killian was hit by Lang. With the bases full Jones hit a long drive to the left garden to Gardner and as soon as the ball was caught Bues came home. Duchien flew out to Gardner, retiring the side. After that things went along smoothly until the fifth inning, when Miller hit a grounder to Bond, who fumbled it and Brady pounded out a two-bagger, scoring Miller. Again in the seventh inning after two men had been retired, Brady got a safety, went to second on an error by Jones and came home on a long drive by Erickson, tying the score. With the score tied La Crosse started things going again and with Jones walking, Gardner dropping Duchien's fly and a pretty hit by Safford, two Colts crossed the plate.

In the next inning Wausau took their turn at starting things and with a single by Lang, Gardner doubled and sent Lang home. Buemiller sacrificed Gardner to third and on an infield hit by Miller the score was again tied. After that everything went merrily on, players on both sides making sensational catches and field work until the twelfth inning. After two men had been retired McAuley drove out a single, Miller was given a pass and on a long drive by Fox the game was won. La Crosse in their turn failed to score. Tracey was the first man up and got to first on an error by Buemiller, but went out at second when Safford hit to Lang. Denny Hastings then batted for Graves, but was only able to hit a fly to Miller and Becker put a stop to everything when he fanned the air.

Be Enthusiastic! 'Tis the Life of Business

Since I have been in Montana I became a Land-Enthusiast. It will do your heart good to hear me talk land. Why not? I am in the business. I want to make some money, and want you to make some money. Impress this on your mind. The number of acres of land is fixed, one acre of land will never make two, the immigration to the United States is a million a year, the population doubles every twenty years. The lands that I am selling in Yellowstone county near Billings are three miles from the C., B. & Q. and 9 miles from the C., M. & St. P. railroad extension. It is all plow land and heavy clay soil and turns black after plowing. I have samples of grain at my office, which was grown near this land. This land will surely advance to $20.00 within a year. I am selling it now from $12.50 to $15.00. There are still a number of homesteads to be had within a few miles of the railroads. Don't let this opportunity pass to make some easy money. The next excursion leaves for Billings on July 7th. Take a week's vacation and go along and see for yourself what opportunities you are missing every day. The round trip fare is $36.50. Come let's talk it over.

THE EXCURSION'S PROFIT

In all the affairs of life, personal contact between those who must be associated in the various transactions of the business is of great importance. We do not live to engage in business, we engage in business to live, and everything which contributes to business the entertainment and the pleasant features of life makes business more desirable and more profitable.

La Crosse is the center of a fine business territory. All about us are thriving little cities and villages, peopled with men with whom our home people conduct constant transactions. Most of it is by letter, dry and matter of fact, although the two strangers at opposite ends of the line are both good fellows, loving their kind and sensible of the joys of social association.

In this fact lies the real value of our business men's excursions. Our business men rub elbows with the business men of our tributary village. They meet informally, jovially.
They throw off the mask of business conventionalities, and each gets to know the real man the other is.

You can't really know a man by mail, and how much pleasanter it is, how much more confidence and mutual respect and good will enters into the relationship, when the business men who deal with each other are to each other "John" and "Bill," than when they are "Mr. V. E. Ryeelson of So-and-So," or "Hon. T. I. Ghtfig of Someplace?" On these excursions friendships have been formed that are helping to brighten lives and may last through existence, families heretofore strangers have assumed close and endeared social relations.
The worlds of our respective business communities and their peoples have expanded, and the clean delight of friendship has been born and fostered.

But the excursion has a purely local importance which is not its least inviting feature. It makes men who are neighbors in La Crosse acquainted. There are men who have met with a casual "Good morning," or no salutation at all, for years who have become friends on these trips.
Business rivalry, or a sort of too-near-for-familiarity relationship has for a decade separated citizens who have finally met in collar and elbow pranks, disrobed of their austerity and formality, and who have come home each realizing that the fellow whom he had barred from intimacy for years was "a prince." The business field is a stage, business men are actors, and they wear the wig and lamp-black of craft for a make-up. But on these excursions they doff the mask and don the cap and bells of sociability, and man to man, their natural selves, the men who romp with their babies on the lawn visible to the naked eye, they come to know each other and to recognize lovable characteristics long hidden beneath the cloak of commercial conservatism.

By all means, let us keep up the excursions, and let us regard their commercial advantages as purely incidental to the mightily more important and pleasing opportunity of getting acquainted.

BECAUSE HE LOVES HER.

A young man not many years ago began calling on a girl; he kept her out on the front porch late at nights; he made life a torment for her if she looked at any other man; and finally he married her.

He is poor and her father is in fairly good circumstances, so that for the first time in her life she began to taste privation and self-denial.
She cooks for him, cleans, sews, mends and slaves for him and their two children.

Why has this man put this woman in a position where she must experience such hardships in addition to his tyranny?

Because he loves her.

This is a common interpretation of love, the sweetest word in the language.

Because he loves her, many a man has brought many a woman down to a hell which she has loyally striven to turn into a heaven.

Woman is so constituted that so long as she believes herself loved and appreciated she can forgive anything and endure anything and still be happy.

A wife is the only laborer on earth who works for her board and clothes and is expected to be grateful for the privilege.

But even she appreciates a trip and a day off now and then.

The husband who doesn't economize on expressions of affection or stint his wife on praise may do as he will without friction or argument.

So long as he doesn't sink the lover in the husband he need fear no rival.

He may forget every other rule, but if he remembers this all will be well.

Even when the steak is leather and the bread a clatter he must remark that the meal isn't quite up to her usual high standard of perfection—and it doesn't happen again.

Every woman is an idealist, and she will break her neck trying to live up to what she thinks a loving husband expects of her.

There are worse things than work.

It is generally the lonely, hungry-hearted women who are trying to amuse themselves and feed their starved lives on the froth of parties and dry husks of club papers.

Sitting alone at night waiting for a husband to come home doesn't thrill a woman a bit more than it would a man.

But any woman can be broken of the club habit or the society habit by a husband who will stay in of evenings and try to entertain her in a spirit of love and friendship like that of courtship days.—Milwaukee Journal.

DEMOCRATIC POSSIBILITIES. NO. 5--T. JOHNSON

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—"The best known mayor of the best governed city in the United States," Tom L. Johnson, is now serving his fourth term as executive head of the city of Cleveland.

First elected in 1901 on a platform pledging to the people a three cent street car fare, he has just succeeded in making good this promise. Cars are now operating on Cleveland's streets, over the tracks of the old corporation that fought Johnson continuously for seven years, at three-cent fare.

Johnson is a Kentuckian by birth, 54 years of age, and his ancestry shows fighting blood all the way through. This may account for his love of a contest, for he never side-steps anything that bears any resemblance to a scrap.

Prior to the time Johnson was elected mayor he had served two terms in congress. Until Johnson first made the race for election to congress in 1888, when he was defeated, he had devoted himself to making money, and he had become a millionaire.

Johnson's parents were rich slave owners at the time of his birth. The civil war left the family penniless.

Thomas L. Johnson

In 1869 Tom took a job in a rolling mill at Louisville. Four months later he succeeded in obtaining employment in the offices of the street car company at Louisville. All that he now has made out of rolling mills and street car lines.

It was not until 1880 that he broke into the street railway game here. He found himself arrayed against Mark Hanna, a director in the company competing with Johnson's.

It was a long drawn out fight, with honors about even. He also got into the manufacture of steel rails, establishing the great plants at Johnstown, Pa., and Lorain, Ohio.

In 1898, Johnson quit business in order to get into politics. Converted to the Henry George single tax doctrine, he managed George's campaign in New York seven afterwards returning to Cleveland.

The conservatives have always said Johnson was a worshiper of fads and isms, but all of these have been things that he believed were for the benefit of the public.

Johnson insists he is not a candidate for anything except the fifth term as mayor. "My work is here," he said when it was suggested he might be a presidential or vice presidential possibility. "I will stay on the job too."

When he first made the fight for mayor he was opposed by Wm. Akers, who was given all the backing of the

When Christy Was Unknown

"When I was in Howard Chandler Christy illustrating class at the Cooper Institute," said a young New York grocer, "Mr. Christy told us that it paid to make ultra fashionable pictures, though sometimes such work had its disadvantages."

"He said that in the days before he had arrived he had some things once in a New York exhibition—some rejected magazine offerings that he hoped to get a few dollars for."

"They were fashion pictures, the same kind he does now, and one day, as he was looking near them, he saw a well dressed woman stop and level her lorgnette. Then, to his delight, she said:

"Ah, if I only knew this artist personally."

"Mr. Christy came forward.
"Permit me, madame," he said,
"to introduce myself as the artist."
"What luck!" the woman exclaimed. "Now, you'll tell me, won't you, the name of the dressmaker who made that tall girl's frock."

An Ostrich Egg Omelet

"I've never tried to be funny with a waiter," the returned traveler was saying, "since the time when I had a little experience with one in California. It was several years ago, and I was rather 'fresh.' I stepped into a restaurant one morning and ordered an omelet."

"What kind?" asked the waiter.
"Why, are there more kinds than one?" I said.

"Oh, yes, sir," he answered me,
"there are several kinds."

"Well, bring me an ostrich-egg omelet."

"All right, sir," he said, "but you'll have to wait quite a while. It Hanna machine. Hanna could not tolerate Johnson because Johnson had insisted he wanted election in order to give the people better and cheaper service, but Johnson was returned a winner by 6,200 majority.

In 1903 he defeated Harvey D.
Gould, again on the same old street car platform, by 6,100. In 1905 Wm. H. Boyd, a leading attorney, thought he had Johnson whipped, but when the votes were counted Boyd was 12,000 short. In 1907 the Republicans picked Congressman Theodore Burton to trim Tom L. It was the street car fight over again.
Johnson won this time by 9,300.

As a campaigner Johnson is given to the spectacular. He likes to excite the desire of the masses for show. It was Johnson who inaugurated the circus tent in campaigning.
He started off with a small, one-pole canvass. Pretty soon he had the regulation three-pole big top, and now he has two tents. It was in his second campaign that he introduced the automobile. He had a fast machine, painted red, and his publicity man dubbed it "The Red Devil." This of course made a hit and incidentally won some votes. Last fall he introduced stereopticon views.

His attempts, however, to go beyond local politics have not been successful. In 1903 he believed he could be elected governor of Ohio.
Myron T. Herrick was on the republican ticket. Hanna threw himself into the fight against Johnson. When the polls closed election night, Johnson had been defeated by more than 110,000 votes. His attempts to lead in state conventions have also been balked every time. At the recent democratic convention at which Judson Harmon was nominated for governor, Johnson urged Atlee Pom-erene for the nomination. It was anything with Johnson to defeat Harmon. He lost. He did succeed, however, in getting his ideas into the platform on which Hanna must run.

While Johnson was in congress the Wilson tariff bill was under consideration. Johnson was a free-trader.
He was also a manufacturer of steel rails, an industry fostered under a protective tariff. He was accused of inconsistency in that he opposed protection and yet was making a great fortune out of a business that thrived under it.

"I am making much more out of the steel rail industry than I should," he said. "So long as you continue to keep the tariff on it, I shall continue to make all I can."

A believer in municipal ownership of public utilities, Johnson is also a monopolist. He says so himself. "I believe one company should own and operate a street railway system, if we cannot have municipal ownership," he told the people in the campaign last fall. Although he has never been a staunch free-silverite, he has been a consistent supporter of Bryan.

As mayor, Johnson has given Cleveland a government absolutely free from graft. Every campaign his political enemies have sent a corps of expert accountants into the city hall to find something on which to base a charge of corruption. Every time these attempts have failed. "Extravagance" is the worst term any have applied to his administration, but if expenditures have been heavy the people have received value in return.

Johnson occupies a splendid stone residence on Euclid avenue, the fashionable thoroughfare of the city, but neither he nor any member of his family are much given to society.

takes a long time to make an ostrich egg omelet."

"I told him I had plenty of time.
He went away, and was gone fully an hour. Then he came back with a big covered dish."

"There you are, sir," he said, placing it before me and uncovering it.

"Well, it was an omelet, 'all right, and big enough for half a dozen men.
Whether there was an ostrich farm in the neighborhood and he got a real ostrich egg, or whether he made it from a couple of dozen hens' eggs I don't know, but I distinctly remember that it cost me $2—and I learned a valuable lesson."—Youth's

Unfit Testimony.

In a Baltimore court one woman was suing another for slander. When the plaintiff was put on the witness stand her attorney said to her, "Now, madam, just tell the court what the defendant said about you."

"Oh, I cannot," she hesitatingly replied.

"But, madam, you must," the attorney insisted. "The whole case hangs upon your testimony."

"But it isn't fit for any decent person to hear," replied the witness.

"Ah, in that case," answered the attorney, "just step up to the judge and whisper it in his ear."—Judge.

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.By S. R. CROCKETT.

(Copyrighted.)

Really it was somewhat "forward of him," as they said in Kirktown.
But then the way it was said—well, it was a gentleman's way, with humour, delicacy, equality in it, but nothing more. And Vida, though she had her father's frown on her face, found the Romer wrinkles smooth themselves away in spite of her. She smiled.

"My daughter, who is better than any born daughter to me," said Dick Finnan, by way of introduction, "this is our underground engineer, Mr.
Morris, as nice a young man—"

"That will do, Dick," laughed the young man aforesaid, "please don't disgrace Miss Vida to begin with. She sees through us quickly enough, I hear. Don't make me more afraid of her than I am. But, see here, I have brought a twenty-four inch plan of the workings, old and new,
and I have made notes of the state of the roads you will have to be responsible for. Also I have your predecessor's notebooks—which won't do you much good, I'm afraid. And now, Miss Vida, if you will pardon us, we will talk business."

And Mr. Ludovic Morris took no further notice of her, but for an hour-and-a-half by the slow-ticking kitchen clock, gave the girl an uninterrupted view of his broad back as he "explained" the mine in detail to Dick Finnan. At last, tired to death of her crocheted work, Vida rolled the white spider's web neatly up, and climbed the staircase to bed without even disturbing them, leaving the two still at it.

At her departure Ludovic Morris did not so much as turn around, though surely he must have heard her move. The rocking-chair creaked, and Vida, usually so light and sure of foot, stumbled over a buffet. But the pair of students only bent more intently over the big crackling sheets which Mr. Morris kept tapping with restless demonstrative pencil.

"Decidedly," thought Vida, as she blew out her candle that night, "he is a new type of young man, this Ludovic Morris, the underground engineer!"

A Man at War With His Maker.

One of Vida Bryan's best friends, after Dick Finnan and the red-nosed Irishman on the Skerry Light, was old Abraham Fyfe, the senior gardener at Gorm House. Mr. Romer refused to have a head gardener, or indeed a "head" anything.

"I am head gardener," he would say, "head cook, head bottlewasher, head everything! There is no head at Gorm House or in the Kirktown pits but Jacob Romer. So mind you that!"

Still Abraham was the man with the best pay, the longest service, the most privileges, and the only man about the place who at times dared to speak his mind to his master. Jacob Romer knew sincerity when he saw it.
For instance, he was as well aware that James Kahn was busily feathering his nest, as that Abraham Fyfe was serving him like a loyal man and no hireling. But then his business was such that James Kahn was more useful to him. Any man may be a good man, but it takes a very clever man to be a servicable rascal. Besides, a man of conscience and scruples is just so much more hampered.

But still Abraham had a tolerance and a respect from the housemaster which were withheld from his closer rivals. The latter was "Kahn," always to his master. But the gardener was always "Abraham," and the fierce master of Gorm House would sometimes end a discussion as to horticultural subjects with the admission that "After all, Abraham, perhaps you may know more than myself—about shalots!"

Vida liked well enough to see Abraham "slip down," as he said, "fraise the Big House to help her to tidy up a wee!" It made her feel less lonesome down by the Little Gate Cottage at the Glee End. This was not the main lodge of Gorm House, but one of which the gate at ways stood open, which led by a narrower, longer and more sequestered avenue, under a gloomy, almost secret archway of green, with a couch of pine-needles restful and elastic underfoot, to the stable entrance. But still Jacob Romer passed out much more frequently by the open Glee End gate than by that guarded by the huge tortured sau-<

THE GUINEA PIG PROVED IT

That dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, are caused by a germ or parasite is now recognized by dermatologists everywhere.

A notable demonstration was by Drs. Lassar and Bishop, who took dandruff scales from the head of a student who was losing his hair and having made a pomade of them with vaseline, rubbed the same upon a guinea-pig, and the pig became bald. (See Geo. Thomas Jackson, M. D., on diseases of skin, 4th edition).

The steamer La Crosse will make three public trips to Onalaska tomorrow in connection with the Fourth of July celebration there. She will leave the levee here at 8 a. m., 11 a. m. and 2 p. m., carrying passengers to the Onalaska levee. This will be the first big boat to invade Onalaska waters since the dredging of Black River, and the trips will no doubt be novel, interesting and well patronized.

CONDUCTOR SHOTS TRAMP IN SHOULDER

ATTACKS MEN WITH ROCKS

Milwaukee Road Employees Have Tussle With Hoboes and Shooting Follows at Minnesota City

A scuffle on a Milwaukee road train the other side of Minnesota City, above Winona, between Conductor George A. Parkhurst and an unknown tramp resulted in the latter being shot in the shoulder and captured and the conductor being injured.

From the reports, the tramp was one of a gang of three beating their way and when found by the conductor, put up a fight. Parkhurst succeeded in throwing the bum off the train but the latter got on again, this time with a stone in his hand. When the conductor tried to throw him off the second time the tramp threw the stone, striking the conductor in the head. He was thrown off again and this time got on with several rocks which he intended to use if the conductor tried again to throw him off. Parkhurst this time drew a revolver and shot the tramp through the shoulder.

It seems that the fight had started when a brakeman found one of the gang on top of a box car and after a short fight succeeded in putting him off the train. The rest of the gang became enraged at this and the fight between the conductor and the tramp followed.

Conductor Parkhurst sent in his report to the division superintendent and it is expected that nothing will be done about it, as he says he was forced to shoot in self defense. Parkhurst was considerably bruised by the fight and went home to bed. He was, however, able to take his train out this morning.

The "bum" who assaulted the conductor was sent to a hospital where his shoulder was dressed.

SIX BIG SHOWS TO OPEN CARNIVAL

NORTH SIDE FESTIVITIES OPEN MONDAY

ATTRACTIONS ALL HIGH CLASS

Gibson Back From Minneapolis, Where He Succeeded in Booking a Splendid Program

There will be six big attractions at the North side carnival which opens Monday morning. Secretary Gibson has just returned from Minneapolis, where he has just secured six vaudeville features from the Northwest Booking association. The acts are from the celebrated Orpheum circuit and although the shows had not intended to be ready for some time, Mr. Gibson has closed the deal. Mr. Gibson has also made arrangements for a big band and all the other features that go with the genuine up-to-date carnival.

The people of the North side will have the good fortune to see these fine acts and had it not been early in the season they probably would have been unable to secure these big shows, as they were originally intended for the big state fairs.

The complete program of the acts will probably be announced tomorrow.

HOW NORTH SIDE WILL SPEND 4TH

George B. Marvin and family expect to spend the day picnicking at French Island.

Otto Kranke and family will entertain a number of Mr. Granke's cousins from Sparta during the day and in the evening they will celebrate with fireworks.

Dr. T. H. Miller will probably go to Onalaska to attend the big 4th of July celebration which will take place there.

H. L. Partridge will be one of a large number to go to Onalaska for the Fourth to see the first celebration Onalaska has pulled off for a number of years.

A. Stetten will spend the Fourth quietly at home most of the day. Fireworks will probably be in order in the evening.

Frank Gelsenheimer intends to go to Onalaska with his family to see the big doings at that place.

L. E. Lavaque will spend the Fourth at home with his family.

Frank Farnum will spend his Fourth in a quiet manner this year and take a lay off from the usual Fourth of July celebration.

C. I. Hiseox will also be one of those who will spend the Fourth in a quiet manner.

H. C. Baumgarten will picnic tomorrow at French Island with a small party of friends.

A woman will take abuse from her husband through love of him that a clerk will take for money.

ONALASKA'S BIG FEST TOMORROW

FOURTH WILL BE APPROPRIATELY OBSERVED THERE

LA CROSSE PEOPLE GOING

Trips of the Steamer La Crosse Will be One of the Features, Affording Trip on Black River

Onalaska will celebrate the 4th of July in grand style and every arrangement has been made for a big all-around celebration. Several bands have been secured and a great many La Crosse people will take advantage of the opportunity and go to the sister city tomorrow.

Among the big features of the day will be a big parade in which the different actors will be on horseback and dressed in fancy costumes. There will also be a picnic in the famous grove and there will be public speaking by different notables. A big baseball game will be one of the features of the afternoon and a dance in the evening will serve to keep up the excitement of the day.

The excursion steamer La Crosse will make three trips up and back during the day and every body will have a chance to go up Black River the first time in a steamboat. This will be an event of considerable note especially to the citizens of Onalaska as it has been a number of years since the channel has been free to big boats of the La Crosse type.

BURNS ENTHUSES OVER W. J. BRYAN

John C. Burns, district delegate to the national democratic convention at Denver, leaves today for the convention and will take part in the deliberations of the party. Mr. Burns believes that he will see one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held and is confident that Bryan will be elected next fall. He does not wish to say much about the platform but he believes that there will be some strong planks in it. He is a great admirer of William Jennings Bryan and believes that he will be nominated on the first ballot.

FEAR MORE DEAD ARE IN DEBRIS

WATTERSON BITTER ON PARKER SCHEME

DEMOCRATIC EDITOR FLAYS NEW YORK "CONSERVATIVE"

HIS TRIBUTE "GHOULISH"

So Says Louisville Man of Attempt to Drag Cleveland's Dead Body Into Factional Turmoil

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 3.—Commenting upon the report from New York that Judge Alton B. Parker had been selected to present resolutions at the Denver convention, upon former President Cleveland's death, Col. Henry Watterson said:

"The attempt to drag the dead body of Grover Cleveland from its new made grave into the tumult of a national convention will deceive no one. An invasion of the grief of the noble lady who weeps amid the silence and solitude of the granite hills, a blow at party concord, it is the act of shameless hypocrites.

Is Work of a Ghoul.

"Nor was ever a professional ghoul inspired by a more mercenary spirit, because the sole aim and end of the Murphy-Conners crowd, aided by Judge Parker, is the perpetuation of the ascendancy of the Belmont-Ryan combination, to which democracy owes its last ignominious and well deserved defeat. It was Belmont-Ryan money that financed Judge Parker's campaign for the nomination in 1904. It was Belmont-Ryan money that nominated him; and it was the Belmont-Ryan tag that made an anti-trust government under such a brand absurd and impossible.

"It seemed fitting that, having made sacrifices for predatory wealth, Judge Parker should have his recompense in a rich law practice in the city of New York. He has had it and with it and its enrichment, he should rest well content. That he should emerge from this highly paid obscurity to make trouble through sheer malevolence were pitiable indeed; but that he should appear, backed by money of the trust magnates and traction thieves, appealing to Jefferson and Tilden, the dead body of Cleveland stretched upon the dissecting table is disgraceful.

"It is not only disgraceful, but its motive is grotesquely and transparently obvious. The wing of the democratic party in the state of New York, to which Judge Parker and the group with which he is now acting belonged was the David Bennett Hill wing.

Enemies of Cleveland. "They were the inveterate, the implacable enemies of Grover Cleveland. They hated him and he hated them. Although amid the gloom of defeat a kind of truce was reached, there was never a real amnesty or oblivion on either side, so that the scheme to recall the shade of Cleveland and to set this up as a death's head in the comedy of a mock funeral would be too dastardly and too ghastly for belief if it were not the last desperate play of a clique of discredited politicians, seeking to rule or ruin at any cost.

"Standing about the open grave of Mr. Cleveland, those of us who knew him but did not always approve him, or agree with him, were not only willing that by-gones should be by-gones, but that the good alone should live after him. He is dead. He sleeps with those that went before from Jefferson to Tilden, and history can be trusted to do him no injustice. Resurrected at Princeton and proclaimed at Denver, his name spells firebrand and only firebrand, and firebrand is the sole initiative and purpose of the body snatchers who propose to use it to conjure dissection, whilst they try to corrupt delegates.

Lays Himself Open to Scorn.

"In Mr. Bryan and a reunited party democrats saw hope of victory. On none other was there the smallest hope of union. That they reason truly has been shown by the fact that, with the Ryan-Belmont bar on tap and its agents flying about in every direction, state after state, refusing to be tampered with, or tainted, has declared for the Nebraskan. Seeing this, Judge Parker is put forward to deliver the final stroke of the bravo, and under the pretense of honoring the memory of Cleveland, to plunge a blade, reeking with poison, artfully prepared, into the heart of democracy. That he should lend himself to such a villainy will engulf him in the scorn of honorable men and the detestation of thoughtful democrats.

No Need of Resolutions.

"There is no more reason why a democratic national convention should go out of its way to signalize the former democratic president than any other, why it should rush upon Cleveland with a frenzy of words than with a hysterical shriek it should rush upon Buchanan; each Buchanan and Cleveland having had the misfortune to divide the party. The spectacle in the case of Mr. Buchanan would lack common sense. In the case of Mr. Cleveland it lacks both common sense and common decency. As well dig up the will of Mr. Tilden, which Judge Parker decided against the instructions and wishes of the sage of Greystone and make it the subject of eulogy for the sake of controversy. As well invoke the spirits of the warning democrats of 1860 and seek to force the Douglas men to pay tribute to Breckinridge men. Under any condition and from any quarter the proposal to revitalize old quarrels by preamble and resolution on the threshold of a national movement should be thrown out as insane. Coming from Connors and Murphy, from Belmont and Ryan, from Parker and Sheehan, it will be thrown out as infamous. They may defeat us, but they can not debauch us."

DR. BJORKMAN INJURED IN FALL

Trying to hang a picture without the aid of his crutches caused Dr. E. J. Bjorkman to fall, fracturing his lame leg near the ankle in such a manner as to lay him up for some time. He is at present confined to his rooms, 529 Main street.

As people grow older they don't go around looking for fights so much.

PATTYS WALK ON HEADS IN CIRCUS

Alexander and Felix Patty of France have reversed the natural order of things. With hands in pocket and feet in air they can use their heads with more agility than many people use their feet. By a series of peculiar head hops they walk up and down stairs, skip the rope and dance.

This act is the greatest novelty and most surprising achievement that Europe has produced in many a year.
It is the only act of the kind in existence and it will be seen in La Crosse on Tuesday, July 21, being one of the European novelties offered this season by Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows. The Patty Brothers receive the largest salary ever paid for a single circus act.

A brief glance at the names will give a fair idea of the universal make-up of this season's company of artists under Ringling Brothers' management. From Italy comes the great Medini family of riders, the Marnello-Marnitz acrobatic bell ringers, and Avenzini, the famous clown; from France, besides the Patty brothers, are the St. Leons, Burgeons and Clara, acrobats, the Martelli family of bicyclists, the aerial Millette, the Bastines, wonderful horseback acrobats, and Mlle. La Belle Roche, who does the sensational automobile double somersault in mid-air; from Spain come the eight Carnellos, acrobats, and Linden, performing clowns.

Ricobono, the world's greatest trainer of horses, came from Russia; Kerslake and his educated pigs are from New Zealand; Prof. Wormwood and his bears, the Clarkons, ridriders and the Livingston troupe of clowns from England; the Mirza Golecourt of the shah of Persia, having been released by the shah for a special tour of America. These are but a few of the foreign performers.

was little damage.

Great excitement was occasioned men, abounding with fish.

LEAGUE NOTES

The Green Bay Gazette leads off on its sporting page with scores of the big leagues and the box score of the home team with three lines of comment; then comes the society notes. We never before saw the connection between baseball and society but today we caught it. The first social item reads: "The members of the O. O. O. club (that looks like the baseball club) were entertained at a picnic to Ridge Point." Although the Green Bay team had eight goose eggs the day previous it is a shame to allude to the O. O. O. club. The next society item reads:
"The Swastika club will hold a pic-

Motor cars were already so far perfected that further improvement were impossible what would be the acknowledged defects in the present type of vehicle? Judging from the controversy which goes merrily on among builders of gasoline vehicles it would seem that a standard has been set up by at least one manufacturer which is worth the expenditure of much money and endless experimenting in striving to attain FLEX-IBILITY—Yes, that's it.

Mr. Auto Agent will say to you:
"Yes sir, we have here a car which is nearly as flexible as a White Steamer. It contains a six cylinder motor which gives almost the same case of control as a White." Now really, Mr. Auto Buyer, do you accept this statement as a fact? Just a minute—Does this flexible six cylinder gas car have a clutch, and another thing—how many speeds?— Oh yes—three forward and one reverse: I see, and here you have something that looks like—Yes that's where you advance the spark.
And here this looks like the old familiar lever which you gasoline men call a throttle, and that reminds me the only thing you have to operate on a White Steamer to vary your speed from zero to sixty miles per hour is the throttle.

No, the flexibility and ease of control of a White have not yet been equalled even with the added two cylinders which many well known motor car builders have added to their power plant in order to approach as nearly as possible the standard set up by the INCOMPAR-ABLE WHITE.

Assets of Alluring Company Prove to Be Small Piece of Land and Engraved Stationery

CHICAGO, July 3.—Eight persons charged with conducting a get-rich-quick mining venture, in which they are said to have taken in more than $1,000,000, were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday on the charge of using the mails illegally. Those against whom the bills were found are:

Dr. W. S. Phillips, a dentist.
Dr. A. T. Grove, dentist.
Walter S. Dillon, lawyer, formerly of Chicago.

W. T. Arms, former salesman.
Marc Sherwood, former salesman.
J. B. Swalley, merchant of Aurora.
H. E. Graham, stock jobber and general promoter.
W. K. Graham, brother and partner of H. E. Graham.

The men indicted organized the American-Mexican Mining and Development company in 1903 under the laws of South Dakota with a capital stock of $3,000,000. It is said $1,000,000 of the capital stock was retained by certain of the organizers and divided amongst the two Gramhams, Phillips, Grove, and one other man, who is credited with being the originator of the scheme, although he was not indicted.

Thousands of persons invested in the concern. Many of them paid in the last of their accumulations and are now poverty stricken.

The mining company, according to the evidence presented to the grand jury, consisted of some property of small value in Mexico, a smelter plant, and elaborately engraved stock certificates and stationery. The local offices of the company were in an elaborately furnished suite at 1018 National Life building.

PLATFORM IS ONLY DEMOCRATIC WORRY

DENVER, Col., July 3.—If the democratic party could go into the election next November without a platform there would be nothing left to do in Denver. Outside of the platform everything is harmony, which, in convention language, spells Bryan. That Mr. Bryan is going eventually to write the platform simplifies matters, but the fact that he has not yet completed the draft gives the few party leaders who are here something to talk about.

"It will be a conservative platform," said Roger C. Sullivan of Chicago yesterday afternoon. "That is it will be more conservative than the average mind would expect from the Bryan crowd."

Dahlman Says "Radical."
Then listen to "Jim" Dahlman, former mayor of Omaha and Mr. Bryan's personal representative on the field.

"It will not be a chip weaker than the platform which was adopted the last time Mr. Bryan ran," said the former cowboy. "You must remember this, though, that what was considered radical eight years ago is most conservative now, and this Denver platform is going to be right up to the times. The conservatives need not be alarmed. We will elect Bryan on his radical platform and the country won't go to the howls either."

That is the talk in Denver. The men who think they are going to write the platform have not yet arrived. Neither has the high priced retained corporation lawyer who is to put on the brakes.

GOVERNMENT LAND OPENING TRIPP COUNTY, S. D.

The Government opening of Tripp Co. lands will probably occur about October 1st, when a million acres will be thrown open to settlement, including some of the finest agricultural lands in the west. The Rosebud extension of the Chicago & North Western Ry. is the only railway line to these lands. See that your tickets read to Dallas, the terminus of the North Western, a half-mile from the reservation border. United States Land office will probably be located here. Send for free descriptive pamphlets giving all details about the land and how to secure a quarter section of it; free on application to any C. & N. W. ticket agent.

TRY OUT SCARRY IN GAME TODAY

In the double header today with the Green Bay team, the fans will have their first opportunity to witness the southpaw, Scarry, in action. Jones will probably be in the box for the opening game while Hastings and Scarry will be on the rubber in the second game.

Scarry has been doing fair work in practice and will be given a chance this afternoon to determine if he is fast enough for this league. He has good curves and appears to have good control of the sphere. Nicholson, the recruit from Black River Falls, showed fair form in practice before returning home and he will probably make a good addition to the team. He will join the Colts at Oshkosh next week.

Following the game with Wausau Wednesday Pitcher Dunbar appeared dissatisfied with the management of the Wausau bunch and was about to sign up with the Colts when the matter was adjusted. Dunbar is considered one of the best pitchers in the league and would have made a valuable man for the Colts.

The general character of the letter will be considered equally with the correct replies, so that the last letter received may get the GOLD. The contest closes July 10th and letters must reach us by that time. We will send the GOLD as soon afterwards as the letters can be read and judged.

Address letters to the Indian Corn Flake Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Sign your name and address plainly, and do not delay as this advertisement may not appear again.

SMALLPOX NO LONGER CONSIDERED FATAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—No longer is smallpox to be dreaded as a fatal disease, but is to be regarded as one in which 499 out of every 500 victims will recover. Such is the information gathered by the marine hospital and public health service.

During the past six months, 23,544 cases of this disease were reported to the service. Out of this large number only 55 died.

Minnesota is credited with being the banner smallpox state, having 5,203 cases reported. In all that number there were only 6 deaths. Texas has something of a record along the same line, 3,089 cases being reported from there, and only 1 death. The third state is Kansas, with 2,332 cases and 3 deaths.

New York had 631 cases and no deaths, while Pennsylvania reports only 11 cases and none fatal. Illinois came in with 4,739 cases, none fatal; and Ohio with 533 cases and 3 deaths.

HOUSER SAYS CORN IS SLOW

According to Poor Commissioner John Houser, the crop of corn in this vicinity are backward this year. He says they are scarcely out of the ground and crops in general are poor, compared with last year.

He returned yesterday from Sparta where he had taken Emma Austin, who was committed to the home for dependent children.

BIG BALLOONS READY FOR RACE

CHICAGO, July 3.—Ten big balloons were hauled to Aero park early today to be filled for the tests for the race tomorrow afternoon. Inflation and ascensions by the pilots will occupy the entire day. The atmosphere is laden with moisture from a heavy rain last night and makes work difficult and somewhat injurious to the balloons.

The race is due to start at 3:30 tomorrow. Balloons will be sent up every ten minutes.

TWENTY MINERS KILLED IN MEXICO

LAS ESPERANZAS, Mexico, July 3.—Twenty Mexican and Japanese miners are believed to have lost their lives in a dust explosion on the slope of a mine of the Mexican Coal & Coke company. They were the only miners at work at the time. A force of men is now clearing the debris.

I frankly make a Declaration of Independence upon you for your favors.

But I hope by assiduous attention to your wishes, by furnishing you the best and prettiest and latest goods at the lowest prices, and by the expert workmanship which will be put upon your repairing, to induce you, in turn, to depend on me for your needs in my line, so that Independence Day, for both of us, will last the year 'round!

CAPT. C. D. MARTIN DIES OF OLD AGE

ONE OF THE EARLIER RIVER PILOTS EXPIRES

UNCLE OF CHIEF BRADFIELD

Captain Martin Operated Early-Time Freight Ferry and Later Packet to Brownsville

Captain Christopher D. Martin, uncle of Chief Nathan Bradfield of the fire department and one of the best known of the early river captains, died last evening at shortly after 7 o'clock at the age of 84 years. Deceased contracted the La Grippe last winter and since that time has been in poor health and unable to leave his home, 1012 South Ninth street, where he passed away in the presence of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Martin.

Captain Martin came to La Crosse April 21, 1855, and soon after coming here accepted the captaincy of time was used in conveying passengers and freight from the Milwaukee depot across the river. After heading the boat for a number of years he took his son Melvin into partnership and for twenty years ran a small ferry boat between La Crosse and Brownsville. About twenty years ago he retired from the steamboat business and up to about four years ago was interested in the business of moving houses. He had to give up that work a few years ago owing to his advanced age.

Deceased was prominent in G. A. R. circles and took part in the battle of Shiloh in a siege lasting for three days.

He is survived by one son, Melvin Martin. His son left La Crosse last spring, going west, and since that time his location cannot be found. His wife died about eight years ago.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the residence, Rev. Cunningham of West Avenue Methodist church will conduct the services and interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery. Miller Bros. are in charge.

HAPGOOD, BRAIN BROKER ARRESTED

NEW YORK, July 3.—Herbert J. Hapgood, president of "Hapgoods, Incorporated," the brain brokers at 305 Broadway, and Ralph L. Kilby, Mr. Hapgood's private secretary and a director of Hapgoods, were arrested yesterday afternoon following a raid upon the Hapgoods offices, occupying almost the entire second floor of 305 Broadway, by Lieuts. Conville and Nelson and a half dozen policemen.

The raid was ordered by Assistant District Attorney Kindelberger upon complaints alleging fraud made at the district attorney's office. All the company's books were secured and Hapgood and Kilby were locked up at police headquarters and up to a late hour last night had not secured bail.

NEW YORK MEN ACCUSED.

The complaints upon which Assistant District Attorney Kindelberger acted were made by William J. Witte of Roslyn, L. I., Walter A. Page of 51 West 144th street, and Charles C. Bittel Jr., of 109 West Fifty-fourth street. All three allege that Hapgood and Kilby got money from them by trick and device. Witte says he lost $12,500, Page $2,500, and Bittel $12,000. Witte was secretary and Bittel treasurer of the Hapgoods Sales company, of which Herbert J. Hapgood was treasurer. This was a $200,000 concern organized two years ago to sell a safety razor.

WANTS $7,000,000 BOULEVARD BUILT

YORK, Pa., July 3.—Immediately after the reconvening of congress next December Representative D. F. Lafeau of the Twentieth district will introduce a bill providing for the construction of a roadway or boulevard from the White house in Washington to the battlefield at Gettysburg.

The road would cost $7,000,000 and be a lasting and national memorial to Abraham Lincoln in celebration of his 100th birthday anniversary.

The great avenue will be 150 feet wide. On each side will be a fifty foot roadway, with a fifty foot plot for grass, shrubbery, and flowers in the center.

PANIC ON STEAMER AT ST. LOUIS BRIDGE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 3.—Seven hundred passengers, nearly all women and children, were thrown into a panic when the excursion steamer City of Providence was cleared of smokestacks by the Illinois shore span of the Eads bridge. The huge stacks were ripped from their sockets and thrown to the deck, damaging the pilot house.

The shock of the impact, the noise and the sudden cloud of smoke pouring from the stack holes caused a panic on board, and the crew had a busy time quieting the fears of the passengers while the boat was headed shoreward.

Instead of passing under the center of the bridge the craft attempted to pass under the eastern end.

SERVICES IN PARK

The congregation and Sunday school of the Norwegian Lutheran church, Sixth and Division streets, will have divine services at Myrick park Sunday, July 5th, if the weather is favorable.

SECOND TRUNK LINE IN CANADA

COMPLETED TO THE WESTERN PRAIRIES NOW

From Edmonton to the Coast is Difficult for Engineering Problems Says Consul Seyfert

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—According to Consul A. G. Seyfert of Collingwood, Canada, the next three years will see the completion of the second transcontinental railway of the Dominion, the Grand Trunk Pacific. Mr. Seyfert gives an account of the progress made in construction of the road.

From Winnipeg to Edmonton, in the northwest part of the prairie region that lies east of the Rockies, the prairie section of the Grand Trunk Pacific is practically completed. From Edmonton to the coast, a distance of 700 miles, through the mountains, it will take three years more to finish. The work of construction through the Rockies is exceedingly difficult and expensive, much of it being between mountain passes and along the gorges of the Skeena river.

Prince Rupert, the Pacific terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is an island. The town is to be built on the slope of a mountain, whose grade begins a few hundred yards back of the shore line. It is alleged that for a harbor Prince Rupert has no equal on the Pacific coast. It is sheltered; its approaches are easy and free from all impediments of navigation. The harbor is one to one and one-half miles wide and extends inland to a distance of ten miles. Prince Rupert is the most exclusive place on the coast. People who have no business there are not allowed to land. The future city is not yet ready to receive any one unless he is directly connected with the railway company. The government and the Grand Trunk Pacific own all the water front and no arrangements are completed for placing any property on the market. The sale is expected to begin next September.

The promoters of Prince Rupert expect the town to become a great factor in Pacific commerce. They predict that in a quarter of a century it will be one of the leading seaports on the Pacific ocean. Prince Rupert will be a day and a half nearer the orient than Vancouver and the steamship concern allied to the Grand Trunk Pacific has announced that the moment the transcontinental line is completed it is ready to inaugurate a trans-Pacific service to Hong Kong.

NOTICE
Members of Wilson Colwell Post No. 38 are requested to meet at Post Hall at 2 p. m., July 4th to attend the funeral of C. D. Martin.
N. C. STROUT, Adjutant.

A NOVEL EXCUSE FOR NON-SUPPORT

"Just to tell you da truth Ay vill say dat may constitution von't stand for it. Ay tank Ay could support her if Ay wanted to but may constitution von't stand it!"

This is the excuse given by Otto Knuteson in county court this morning for failure to support his wife and children.

Knuteson was granted a divorce in circuit court last year and at that time it was provided that he was to contribute to the support of the children. This according to his wife he has failed to do. Mrs. Otto Knuteson, his wife, testified that since July 7, 1907, when the divorce was granted, his contributions for the support of the children have amounted to $2 in cash, a pair of trousers and a pair of shoes for the boys.

Knuteson admitted this but said that he couldn't afford to be paying out money to his wife and that his "constitution wouldn't stand for it." He claimed that if the children were in the care of anyone else he would just as soon pay for their support but refused absolutely to do so while they lived with Mrs. Knuteson.

Knuteson some time ago, after being arrested for nonsupport, made application to Judge Brindley to be committed to the insane asylum. The law requires the signatures of three people who will swear that they think he is insane. Knuteson failed to get these, and as a result can't go to the asylum. His attorney, Thomas Morris, argued that there was absolutely no doubt as to his being insane and the testimony of Dr. Egan, who was placed on the stand, led to this belief.

He was bound over to the next term of circuit court.

READ THE TRIBUNE WANT ADS.

Have a rummage sale of your own

This is serious.

At this season—thoughts of new things are uppermost in one's mind—not in clothing line alone—but throughout the household a general replacement takes place. What becomes of the old stuff?

Piled away in garret or storeroom most likely—and forgotten.

Why, if you would go through the basement or storeroom of the average family today you would find an accumulation of "discards" from years back.

The strange thing is that hundreds of people want the very things for which you have no further use.

It's easy for you to find a customer, too—

Glance at the Want Columns in today's paper—see which want you can supply—then write the party.

But if you can't find a party who can use what you want to sell, make a list of what you have and put it in the Want Columns yourself.

But look at the Want Ads first.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

FUCHSEL GETS 90 DAYS IN WORKHOUSE

CONFESSION ALLOWS HIM TO PLEAD TO LESSER CHARGE

PAID DEBTS WITH BOOTY

La Crosse Boy Who Robbed His Roommate Used Proceeds to Liquidate Obligations

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 3.—Joseph Fuchsel, a dapper young man, 19 years of age, was arrested in La Crosse, Wis., and brought back to this city last Wednesday by Detective Fraser, of the central police station and charged with grand larceny. Fuchsel robbed Chris Hansen, his roommate (of $170 in a Robert street rooming house in this city on the night of June 24.

It appears that the two young men met on an incoming train from the Pacific coast and after their arrival in this city both of them spent several days together seeing the sights. Several times during their intimacy as "pals" Hansen displayed a large roll of the "long green."

Fuchsel informed Hansen unless he could get funds somewhere, he would be compelled to "beat" his way to his home in La Crosse. Hansen each time pressed him to stay a day longer and continue his celebration for there was no telling when the two would meet again. But each day the fat roll of greenbacks gradually diminished as Hansen paid for their pleasure. This fact seemed not to trouble his owner so much as it did Fuchsel, who, if he could but secure possession of one or more of the crisp bank notes, could ride home on the cushions of a day coach.

One night, as the pair, wearied and foot-sore strolled along Robert street, Fuchsel suggested that they go to a near-by hotel and go to bed. Hansen acquiesced and they retired to bed. Hansen tucked his trousers containing $175 in bills under his pillow, and fell asleep. Fuchsel lay awake pondering how he could reach his destination.

Took the Money.

He decided to rob his friend and cautiously climbed out of bed and tip-toed toward the pillow that secreted his friend's earnings, and stealthily pulled the trousers from their resting place and dived his hand in a rear pocket, annexed the roll, then dropped the trousers to the floor and fled from the chamber. In the morning Hansen awoke and found his trousers on the floor in the center of the room. His roommate was gone, so was his roll. One lone $10 bill secreted in another pocket was his only asset left. Fuchsel in the meantime purchased a railway ticket, realized his dreams of loitering in a wicker chair and gazed admiringly at the beautiful scenery while en route to his home in La Crosse.

Hansen did not stop to partake of his morning meal until he had the local police on the trail of his deceitful friend. He gave the police a minute description of Fuchsel and also told them he had spoken frequently of La Crosse and his intention of going there.

Chief of Police Webber at La Crosse was notified by wire to await the coming of the train that would bear Fuchsel into La Crosse the next morning and arrest him. When the train rolled into La Crosse the alert arm of the law at that point was there to receive Fuchsel with open arms, but he did not arrive. He stopped at Winona and toged out with an entire new wardrobe and paid a bill of $50 he had contracted with one man some time ago. Then he proceeded to the Winona post-office and forwarded a number of money orders amounting to $50 to his debtors in various parts of the country. His course verified the adage of one man's loss is another's gain. Only twelve simoleons remained of Hansen's once fattened bank roll.

A day or so later he ventured within the city gates of his home town and was en route to his home to see his mother for the first time since his departure for the Pacific coast three months ago, when he was captured by the police. The local police were notified and the young fellow was brought back to face the charge of grand larceny.

Gets Ninety Days.

Fuchsel made a clean breast of the affair in police court, and was allowed by Judge Finehout to plead guilty to a charge of petit larceny. He then received the maximum sentence for that offense, ninety days in the workhouse. The judge remarked that he was really a penitentiary offense, but he saved himself from a charge of grand larceny by his confession.

BODY FOUND BESIDE TRACK.

BEMIDJI, Minn., July 3.—The body of an unidentified man was found lying beside the Great Northern railroad tracks a short distance from the east switch at Wilton by section men, who were going along the track on a handcar from their regular day's work. The scalp of the man was bruised and investigation showed that his neck was broken. There were marks in the sand showing that the body had been dragged two or three rods and then thrown into the ditch. As there had been no freight train for several hours before the accident it is believed that the man was killed by the east bound passenger train. A search of the man's clothes brought forth a letter addressed to "Alex Erickson, Alberta, Can."

MAKE FOR CROSSING AT THE SAME TIME

ENGINEERS' TRAINS CRASH AND ONE MAN IS KILLED

DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

Several Others Injured in Great Western-Rock Island Wreck at Des Moines

DES MOINES, July 3.—One man was killed, two were seriously injured and a half dozen were slightly hurt in a wreck when a Chicago Great Western work train crashed into the Rock Island Indianola local at the East Sixteenth street crossing Wednesday.

The wreck was caused by the efforts of the engineers of both trains to make the crossing at the same time. Both claim to have whistled for the crossing and sent their engines toward it at fair speed. The dead was URBANUS, W. H., Valley Junction, Rock Island brakeman and baggage-man; crushed beneath cars; died on way to hospital.

The injured: Fowler, H. C., Chillicothe; passenger; rib broken. Ruggles, E., Oelwein, Ia.; crushed and bruised. Sanders, D. F., Carlisle, Ia.; head bruised and cut; not serious. Hamm, E. R., Carlisle, Ia.; legs bruised; not serious.

TODAY'S GRAIN GOSSIP

Chicago—Wheat: Light but general showers very undesirable at this time reported over west and south-west, this, however, was anticipated and resulted in much buying yesterday to cover short sales; the second Liverpool cable comes unexpectedly weak and lower and with the forecast for more settled weather for next few days which will permit completion of harvest, think market has advanced enough for the present and on hard spots would secure profits with view of buying again at a lower level during first of the coming week. The same course may be taken in oats and corn market.

Broomhall—Dullness characterized the early dealings in wheat although at first an undertone was steady, values unchanged to ½ higher. For a time offerings were light owing to firm American cables and absence of cargo arrivals; later, however, market developed decided selling pressure and values lost ½ to ¾ with principal weakness in July in which holders realized freely.

The continued perfect weather throughout the United Kingdom. Poor demand for spot; better European crop outlook; and favorable advices from Argentina regarding the outlook for the new crop caused profit taking. At midday market easy ¼ to ¾ lower.

Liverpool Close—Wheat, ¼ to ¾ lower; corn unchanged to ½ higher. Chicago—Logan Bryan: Profits on long corn are certainly in order on a swell but the situation may easily continue bullish.

St. Louis wire to Bennett says: W. B. Anderson of Nansan Commission company just back from southeast Missouri, says considerable threshing has been done; yields are poor, not over half crop indicated there.

Corn—Steady at opening ¼ higher and later showed further gain of ¼ to ¾. Strength in American cables, together with the firmness of spot and a good demand for cargoes which were lightly offered caused the support. At midday market firm ¼ to ¾ higher.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC.

The skin is an index to the quality of the blood. Eczema, Acne, Tetters, pimples, rashes, eruptions, etc., show that some unhealthy humor or acid impurity is diseasing and corrupting the circulation, so that instead of supplying nourishment and strength to the fine, delicate tissues of the skin, it is continually pouring out its acid and unhealthy accumulations. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may relieve some of the itching and other discomfort caused by skin troubles, and for this reason should be used, but such treatment cannot reach the humor-laden blood, and therefore cannot cure. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for skin diseases. S. S. S., a purely vegetable preparation, is the best and quickest remedy. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes and removes the acids, impurities and humors, thoroughly purifies the circulation and permanently cures skin diseases of every kind. When S. S. S. has driven the humors and impurities from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood and the trouble cured, as the cause has been removed. ### SHOOTING OF FIRST REGIMENT IS GOOD

LARGE NUMBER MAKE CLASSES OF DISTINCTION

NORMAL ATTACK A SUCCESS

The Attack by Each Battalion on Disappearing Targets Successful —Leave Camp Today

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., July 3.—The work of the First regiment on the ranges this week has been of a very high order, as compared with last year. The following are the qualifications under Course C:

Experts, 9; sharpshooters, 12; marksmen, 206; first class men, 146; second class men, 145; third class men, 270; fourth class men, 39.

Co. E	54.23
Co. I	51.81
Co. D	42.09
Co. L	41.87

That of the entire regiment was 41.56.

Yesterday morning each battalion in succession executed the "normal attack" by battalion in single echelon, firing ball cartridges at disappearing targets. There were sixteen of these. Each company was limited to thirty-two men and twenty rounds were issued to each one. As this was an experiment on entirely new lines the results were most satisfactory and Gens. Boardman and King were delighted with the result.

The Third battalion carried off the honors with a total score of 1,050 hits. Second battalion 1,021 and the First 1,008. One target alone of the Third battalion contained 245 hits. Gov. Davidson was an interested spectator during this field firing exercise.

The mock parade by the enlisted men of the regiment was a success. This practically finishes the work of the regiment as it begins to break camp immediately after being paid off this morning.

Gov. Davidson left for Madison at noon yesterday. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with the showing made by the First regiment, the gain, he said, being most remarkable the past two years.

MOVING PICTURES AT THE BIJOU

Mr. Walter Goetzinger, whose piano playing has delighted thousands of Bijou patrons during the past season, has leased the Bijou theatre during its close mid-summer season and will put on an illustrated song and moving picture show. The regular high-class film service supplied by the Dupasse company will be used. Three performances will be given daily, one in the afternoon and two in the evening. There will be a change of bill twice a week. Besides Mr. Petrick who has been retained to sing the illustrated songs Mr. Goetzinger has secured the services of Miss Hazel Jackson, a young girl soprano who possesses a voice of remarkable range and power. The moving picture performances will be continued throughout the summer, with the exception of Saengerfest week, when a program of vaudeville of unusual strength and excellence will hold the boards for that week. Mr. Goetzinger will, as usual, preside at the piano.

The class was getting grammar. "Now," said the teacher, "can anyone give me a word ending with 'ous,' meaning full of, as in 'dangerous,' full of danger, and 'hazardous,' full of hazard?" There was silence in the class for a moment. Then a boy sitting in the front row put out his hand. "Well, John," said the teacher, "what is your word?" "Please, sir," came the reply, "'plous,' full of ple."

ASHES FOR TOOTH POWDER

Reinhold Schulz Makes Request That He Be Cremated and Ashes Used for Tooth Powder

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 3.—Carl Huber, Walter Barnes and Reinhold Schulz committed suicide, bringing the list of tragic deaths in Milwaukee since Sunday morning up to seventeen.

Agend and discontented with life, Carl Huber, former cigar maker and practical hermit, killed himself by taking carbolic acid in the rooms where he lived and worked in the rear of 428 Hadley street. Neighbors were alarmed at Huber's non-appearance and Police Sergeant Genthe battered in the door of Huber's rooms, finding the body with an empty carbolic acid bottle close by. He had no relatives.

To Benefit Cripples. Walter Barnes was a cripple and took his own life in an effort to benefit humanity. He was found hanging in a woodshed at 356 First avenue, where he boarded. Tuesday night he made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide by drinking laudanum under the Tivoli palm garden.

"Cut up my body and find out what was the matter with my poor legs," he wrote. "I've grown tired of going through life on crutches and maybe your discovery will aid other cripples." Barnes was a familiar character to thousands of south siders. He was subject to moods of melancholia.

Tooth Powder of Ashes. Reinhold Schulz, aged 54 years, a painter, was found hanging from a tree near the Milwaukee river two blocks from Pabst park by Frank Kartig. Life had been extinct for several hours. Schulz lived with his brother at 618 Twenty-second street. Two months ago he left the house after a violent quarrel. It is said, with his brother's mother-in-law, Mrs. Meta Buettner.

Just before hanging himself Schulz bequeathed his ashes to Mrs. Buettner, with a request that she use them for tooth-powder, in the following letter:

"I am heartsick of it all. I am suffering with rheumatism in my right arm and don't care to traverse the city streets without being subject to dizzy attacks. I can not get work. Notify my brother who lives at 618 Twenty-second street when you cut down my body. My last request is that my body be cremated and the ashes given to Mrs. Meta Buettner, 618 Twenty-second street. Tell her she can use them for tooth powder. Good-by, beautiful world."
